[Music] you [Music] I'm Jacob Hornberger president of the future of Freedom Foundation this is episode 7 of my series on the JFK assassination on the evening of November 22nd 1963 Air Force One lands at Andrews Air Force Base this time already and the bystanders who were there along with the media were all situated grouped together on the left side of the plane Bobby Kennedy comes onto the plane he passes right by Lyndon Johnson they despised each other didn't say a word and heads directly to Mrs. Kennedy in the meantime people start removing this heavy ornate very expensive casket that into which the president's body had been placed at Parkland Hospital the casket is placed in the back of the Navy vehicle Mrs. Kennedy and Bobby Kennedy get into the vehicle and then it proceeds in the caravan very slowly to the Bethesda Naval Hospital where an autopsy is going to be conducted in the morgue which is in the lower level of this particular facility it arrives at the at this facility at 6:55 p.m. Mrs. Kennedy gets out of the car along with Bobby Kennedy and she proceeds into the main form and she and Bobby Kennedy are heading up to an upper floor to await the finality of the autopsy at that same time there is an x-ray technician named Gerald Custer who's coming up from the bottom leveled the basement level where the morgue was and he says he had x-rays in his hand and those x-rays were of President Kennedy his question arises if the president's body is in the casket out in the front of the facility how is it possible that Gerald Custer's is saying possible that Gerald Custer's is saying that he has x-rays and that x-rays are being taken of the president's body down in the morgue but in fact recall that this confirms the statement that commander Hume said to Lieutenant Colonel Fink at 8:00 p.m. that evening he calls Fink up and he says we're getting ready to start the autopsy but we already have x-rays of the president's head and the problem of course was that at a p.m. as I previously indicated that was the official time that that honor guard was carrying in the casket and raising the question how is it possible that they had already conducted x-rays on presents on the president's head if the body is being brought in at the same time for the autopsy now in the mid nineteen seventies the a the House Select Committee on assassinations reopens the investigation of President Kennedy's assassination people were just not satisfied with the official story everything was just to pad you know communist kills the president bone nut he has no motive except that he's a little man trying to become a big man by killing the big man except for the fact that he denies doing it and even more interesting he claims that he's being framed now then you have a mafia like figure that is supposedly grieving over what's happened and he goes and kills the supposed to be the SAS and all of this is just very pat and then they totally shut down the investigation immediately and then shroud the whole thing in national security and with the intent of keeping everything secret or most everything secret for several decades people weren't satisfied with this it just didn't feel right and so the pressure finally caused the House Select Committee on assassinations to reopen the investigation and when they did that they discovered that the at the

did that they discovered that the at the autopsy all of the participant to the autopsy were sworn to secrecy they were they were forced to sign secrecy oaths where they promised that this room that they understood that this was classified information the whole operation was classified and that they would never reveal it they would take it to the grave with him but one participant said they put the fear of God in us they threatened him with severe criminal penalties if they ever talked but the House Select Committee started releasing people from these vows and secrecy and when they did that several enlisted men came and delivered a fascinating account astounding account of what happened on the evening of the assassination they said that they carried in the body of the president at 6:35 p.m. that is 20 minutes before the Mrs. Kennedy arrives at the front with the casket the Dallas casket they said that the president's body was brought in in a very cheap silver gray casket a military casket the kind of casket they used for soldiers that were being killed in Vietnam even more interesting the body President Kennedy's body was in a body bag same sort of thing they used during war unlike what the person who had sold him the casket in Dallas said that he wrapped the body in sheets now in the 1990s the assassination records Review Board discovers the existence of a written report that was made contemporaneously with the events of November 22nd 1963 was made about that same time and it's called a Boyajian report it was prepared by a Marine Sergeant named Roger Boyajian and Boyajian said that his team was the one that carried the casket in the silver/gray cheap casket military casket in at 6:35 p.m. even equally interesting in at 6:35 p.m. even equally interesting the assassination Ricker's Review Board discovered the existence of a report from Dallas funeral home that was made at the time that these events took place now Galler funeral home was the most prestigious funeral home in Washington this was the funeral home that conducted the funeral for President Kennedy this written report confirmed that the President had been brought into the morgue in a cheap gray military-style casket notice all the lines that are intersecting you've got commander Humes telling Colonel Fink at 8:00 p.m. we're getting ready to start the autopsy they were bringing in the Dallas casket but we've already got x-rays of the president's head you got Gerald Custer the x-ray technician that see Mrs. Kennedy come up to the front the caskets out the Dallas caskets out there in the front he knows that the president's body is downstairs and you've got all these enlisted men the total was about eight saying yeah we carried in the casket through the back door in that lower level at 6:35 p.m. 20 minutes before Mrs. Kennedy's arriving there at the front and then you've got the written report the Boyajian report that was made contingent contemporaneously at that time that confirms the early delivery of the body and then you've got the Galler funeral home report that confirms it was brought in in this cheap casket so the circumstantial evidence is pointing in extra bleeped in one direction the President Kennedy's body was brought in to the morgue earlier than the official time of a piece now the question is obviously what were they doing and why were they doing it we will examine that but suffice it to say that for now what they were doing and why they were doing it is shrouded in the two most important terms and the political lexicon of the terms and the political lexicon of the American people in our lifetime you [Music]
